This is a site for Milsim paintball players, created by Milsim paintball players. After browsing the web we felt that there wasn't a dedicated Milsim paintball site in this country. A place where like minded players could go to exchange ideas and just chat about Milsim, so this site was born.

We hope this site will grow into the foremost resource for information relating to Milsim paintball in this country. Everything from markers to tactical kit, we will have reviews and pictures and video of it all here. There are of course the forums, the place to talk about up and coming events and anything related to our sport. Also the place to buy and sell kit or equipment or to ask technical questions related to Milsim markers. If you own an, ATS, Tippmann, Armotech or even a Real Action Marker, this is the place to be.
